Marketable Real Estate around Globe rose a few points. Conservative speculators loaded up on a few special bargains, while the renter with idle money "passed up" the plans offered, in forced "puts," under the claim of "poco tiempo" action. The market "bears" sought the outside track in anticipation of heavy depression; the "bulls" ran neck and neck under the HOME wire, and picked up some loose change for the season's outing by a solar plexus swing on the face of opportunities. At the third inning the count stood even money on time takers. Cash callers bucked the "ante" on good offers and toed the scratch ready for easy money on good buys.
